REGULATORY ENVIRONMENT

POLICY AND LEGISLATION

The Parliament approved amendments and additions to the Securities Market Law and related legislative drafts on May 16, 2024. These changes will simplify and expedite the process for domestic businesses to issue securities to the public, improve coordination between regulatory authorities and trading organizations, align regulations with international standards, and foster the development of financial technology-based products and services. Additionally, the amendments will strengthen the roles of securities issuers and underwriting companies, improve the regulation of securities trading, and streamline settlement, centralized processes, and specific registration – all contributing positively to the capital market. Following the law's approval, the Financial Regulatory Commission (FRC) has been working step-by-step to draft, revise, and approve relevant regulations and procedures. Among these:

- The "Regulation on the Special Notation and Registration of an Asset-Backed Securities Portfolio" was updated to improve the regulatory framework and was approved as a joint order (No. 94/A/62) on March 4, 2024, by the Chairman of the FRC and the Minister of Justice and Internal Affairs.
- The revised Law on Asset Valuation, approved by Parliament in June 2022 has been in effect since January 1, 2023. In connection with its implementation, some companies engaged in asset valuation had to restructure, transfer their activities to another legal entity, or establish new entities to comply with the law and register as asset valuation legal entities. However, certain companies have faced challenges in meeting the conditions and requirements outlined in the "Securities Registration Procedure," adopted by FRC Resolution No. 225 in 2021. To address these challenges, amendments and additions to the same procedure were made by FRC Resolution No. 248, dated June 5, 2024.
- On November 10, 2023, the Parliament approved amendments to the Law on Corporate Income Tax and the Law on Personal Income Tax. According to Article 18.14 of the amended Law on Corporate Income Tax: "The procedure for determining, withholding, paying, and reporting taxable income on revenues from the sale of debt instruments (bonds), stocks, and other securities issued by the government, provinces, the capital city, or taxpayers located in Mongolia, traded on the primary and secondary domestic securities markets, shall be jointly approved by the Minister responsible for financial and budgetary matters and the Chairman of the Financial Regulatory Commission." In line with this provision, the relevant procedure was developed jointly with the Ministry of Finance and approved by the Minister of Finance and the Chairman of the Financial Regulatory Commission under Joint Order No. A/105/239 on June 7, 2024.

COOPERATION

- o The Financial Regulatory Commission has signed the following memorandums of cooperation to enhance policy regulation and supervision in the financial market, strengthen capacity building, and expand international cooperation:
 - o On February 28, 2024, the Financial Regulatory Commission and the National Bank of the Kyrgyz Republic signed a memorandum of understanding to support enterprises, especially fintech companies, operating in the financial markets of both countries through policy measures. The collaboration also includes exchanging data on cross-border financial activities, assisting with on-site financial oversight and inspections, and promoting human resource development.
 - o On March 7, 2024, the Financial Regulatory Commission and the Central Bank of Hungary signed a memorandum of understanding to collaborate on fostering policy support for the growth of the capital markets in both countries. The cooperation focuses on promoting financial products and service innovation, attracting both domestic and international investors, exchanging information on cross-border financial operations, offering mutual assistance in supervisory processes, and developing human resources and institutional capacity.
 - o The Financial Regulatory Commission and the Mongolian National Chamber of Commerce and Industry are jointly implementing a program designed to increase the participation of TOP-100 enterprises in the capital market, thereby enhancing their access to funding. As part of this initiative, efforts are being made to simplify the process of issuing securities, such as IPOs and corporate bonds, by reducing regulatory requirements, conditions, and timelines. This includes eliminating the need for asset valuation before IPOs and removing collateral or guarantee requirements for both public and private bond issuances. Relevant rules and procedures reflecting these regulatory changes will be amended and made publicly available. Feedback will be solicited via the Commission's website starting April 24, 2024, in accordance with Article 62.1 of the Administrative General Law, before final approval.

STABILITY

o Regarding stability, four key indicators of NBFIs were calculated following AFI's guidelines to assess financial access and financial stability.

CREDIT RISK FUND RATIO

In 2024, the ratio reached 109.7%, driven by the establishment of a contingency fund, reflecting a 2.1 percentage point increase from the previous year.

109.7%

NON-PERFORMING LOANS

In the reporting year, non-performing loans totaled 351.0 billion MNT, accounting for 6.1% of total loans, reflecting a 0.9 percentage point decrease from the previous year.

TOTAL CASH ASSETS COMPARATIVE RATIO

- o The ratio of cash assets to total assets declined by 2.4 percentage points to 11.6% in the reporting year.

Z INDEX

The Z index – which measures the probability of an NBFI going bankrupt, is calculated by dividing the sum of ROA and ROE by the volatility of ROA. A higher Z index indicates lower risk and greater stability, as it reflects strong profitability and equity leverage, while a lower index suggests increased income uncertainty. In 2024, the Z index for the non-bank financial sector declined by 3.8 percentage points to 17.4 compared to the same period in the previous year.

Distribution of return standards

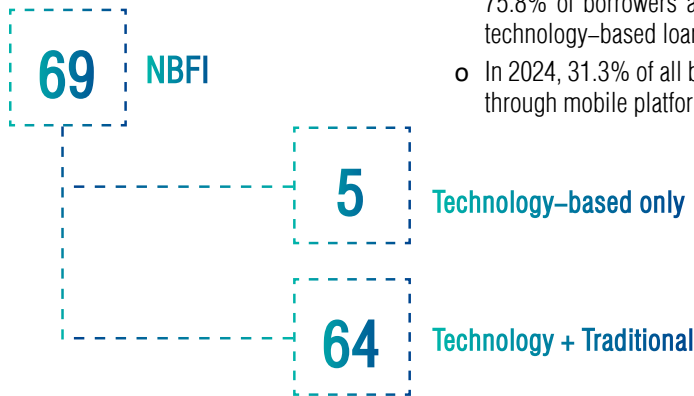

STANDARD DEVIATION

The standard deviation of ROA, calculated based on returns from the last four quarters, measures the extend of variation from the average. In the reporting year, the standard deviation was 0.0365, marking a 0.0039 percentage point increase from the previous year.

INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

The Financial Regulatory Commission (FRC) is actively collaborating with various international organizations and associations to shape policies and regulations concerning Non-Bank Financial Institutions (NBFIs).

- o AFI Meetings in Fiji: FRC's representatives attended the 27th meeting of the AFI Consumer Empowerment & Market Conduct (CEMCWG) and the 10th meeting of the Inclusive Green Finance (IGFWG), held in Nadi, Republic of Fiji, from March 4–8, 2024. During these meetings, participants exchanged perspectives on the impact of climate change on the country and discussed the measures being taken to develop a green financial sector. There was a strong mutual interest in further cooperation in this field. Key topics discussed included: supporting SMEs within the framework of sustainable development, the possibility of providing green loan risk guarantees, the process of introducing green taxonomy, Ongoing sustainable development initiatives in Mongolia.
- o Training on ESG Trends in Mongolia: on March 13–15, 2024, The International Finance Corporation (IFC) and the Mongolian Association of Non-Banking Financial Institutions jointly organized a training for NBFIs on the trends in the development of the ESG (Environmental, Social, Governance) in Mongolia.
- o Roundtable on Strengthening Public-Private Partnerships: On April 29, 2024, FRC participated in a roundtable discussion aimed at strengthening public-private partnerships in Mongolia, focusing on sustainable development. The discussion highlighted the real challenges faced by stakeholders regarding new standards and trends in ESG reporting and explored ways to address these challenges.
- o Sustainability Workshop: On April 30, 2024, a "Sustainability, Environment, and Climate Reporting Workshop and Discussion" was jointly organized by the Mongolian Sustainable Finance Association, the Bank of Mongolia, the FRC, and international partners, including GCF/ TDBM, CTIF, UNDP, ESCAP, FC4S, and IFC. Representatives from the Non-bank Financial Institutions Department participated in this important event.

REGULATORY ENVIRONMENT

In the framework of the improvement of the regulatory environment:

Amendments to the Sandbox Regulations: The FRC developed amendments to the “Regulation on Sandbox Regulatory Environment”, which included:

Regulations for products and services successfully tested in the sandbox.

Clarifications on the regulations that are now effective.

Consideration of participating organizations as reporting entities under Article 4 of the Law on Combating Money Laundering and Financing of Terrorism.

Regional Leadership: Mongolia is leading the Regional Sandbox Regulatory Framework Working Group to promote regional financial integration and reform by supporting financial technology innovation. This also aims to expand cross-border cooperation among Central Asian countries.

Public Awareness:

The FRC participated in 18 training sessions and discussions to inform the public about the sandbox regulatory environment and fintech market developments.

Representatives from the FRC attended major international conferences such as:

“Technological Development and Regulation in Payment Systems” and “Payment System Regulators’ Meeting” conferences organized by Southeast Asian Central Banks (SEACEN).

“Implementing Sandbox Regulation: Challenges and Lessons” webinar organized by the Alliance for Financial Inclusion (AFI), where Mongolia shared its experiences in implementing sandbox regulations.

Industry Terminology Integration: Terms related to the fintech industry were integrated into the “Glossary of Economic and Financial Terms” developed by the Bank of Mongolia, Financial Regulatory Commission, and the University of Finance and Economics, enhancing the clarity and consistency of fintech terminology in the country.

Within the framework of monitoring and collaborating with participants in the sandbox environment:

A total of 82 meetings were held with 31 companies interested in testing their products and services within the sandbox.

the FRC has been conducting both on-site and off-site supervision of participants activities based on their reports .

The FRC regularly participates in trainings and meetings focused on fintech development and the regulatory environment to stay updated.

The FRC is developing a digital database to collect news and reports on a weekly, monthly, and quarterly basis, with tailored reports for each of the six testing areas.

The FRC also conducts regular research on the development and regulatory environment for testing products and services, ensuring that their operations stay aligned with global trends.

REGULATORY ENVIRONMENT

POLICY AND LEGISLATION

- o In response to the evolving market and legislative environment, the Financial Regulatory Commission (FRC) has focused on protecting the interests of investors and customers within regulated sectors. As part of this initiative: The regulations governing the activities of Virtual Asset Service Providers (VASPs) were diversified, consolidated, and amended to align with relevant laws and regulations.
- o These changes were approved by the FRC's Resolution No. 657 in 2024 and are designed to: Ensure consistency with existing rules, regulations, and instructions under the General Administrative Law. Eliminate duplication and address any violations. This new regulation is titled "Regulations on the Operation of Virtual Asset Service Providers" and came into force on January 24, 2025, after being registered with the State Consolidated Fund of the General Administrative Laws by the Ministry of Justice and Home Affairs.
